FLYING V PRESENTS "IT'S THE REST OF THE WORLD THAT LOOKS SO SMALL: A THEATRICAL REVUE OF JONATHAN COULTON"

DC's favorite indie theatre company returns with a signature deep dive into intimate struggles through humor and the fantastic.

SILVER SPRING, MD – WORLD PREMIERE: Who better channels the Flying V spirit than Jonathan Coultan, the singer/songwriter and cult sensation known for clever, engaging songs that illuminate our most intimate struggles through both humor and the fantastic? This original show explores the loneliness and longing of life through movement, puppetry, and a curated collection of songs from across Coultan's career. What if our lives are constellations, our brightest moments connecting across empty space? How do we fit into a world so vast and yet so small? Join ex-planets, lonely sea monsters, a lovable team of curlers, and more as Flying V explores what it means to be human in a vast world of possibility.

It's The Rest Of The World That Looks So Small features a live band performing original arrangements by Flying V company members Steve Przybylski and Jon Jon Johnson of the music of Jonathan Coultan, as well as exciting dance and movement choreography by Robert Bowen Smith and Jamie Doughty, and thrilling fight choreography by Jonathan Ezra Rubin. Under the direction of Producing Artistic Director Jason Schlafstein and Flying V company member Vaughn Irving, It's The Rest Of The World invites audiences to see just how universal the individual experience can be and how one can meld high concept imagery and intimate moments.

ABOUT FLYING V

Founded in 2011, Flying V Theatre is a non-profit, ensemble-based company dedicated to creating theatre that invigorates and inspires people to live life with a greater sense of appreciation and adventure. A gateway drug that bridges the gap between pop culture and high culture, we are dedicated to the creation, development, and production of vibrant original work, offbeat contemporary plays, and performance art inspired by genre fiction and other modern mythologies. By creating work that reflects the intimate struggles of the human condition through vivid, high concept metaphors and artistic vigor, we hope to shine a light on the loneliness and isolation that so many feel and create a sense of connection and wonder. We are your Friendly Neighborhood Indie Theatre. Expect Awesome. Be Awesome.
